Jackson Township Officials Make It Possible For Work On New School House To Start At Once

TO BE BUILT THIS SUMMER

Contracts For General Construction,
Heating And Plumbing And Electrical Work Total $51,000

The various contracts were awarded and the bonds sold for the consolidated school building in Jackson township late Wednesday in the court house here by the township school officials, and the selling of the bonds at the same time, it was made possible for the contractors to begin work at once.

The total contract price for the construction of the new building will be $51,000, which also was the exact amount of the bonds sold. Several reductions had to be made in the contracts in order to keep the total within the limit decided upon.

The successful bidder for the general construction work was the R. O. Sharp firm of Camden, Ind., and their bid was $46,900, but it was reduced on several items. The contract for heating and plumbing was awarded to Herman F. Ziefel of Indianapolis for $10,500, but his contract had to be changed. The electrical contract was given to Lucas and Tingley for $950, but this was cut to about $600.

The general contracting bids contained 23 alternatives or reductions and because of these many reductions available, it required most of the day for the school officials to go over the bids.

The J. P. Wild and Company bank of Indianapolis was the successful bidder on the bond issue, which went for a premium of $887.90 and accrued interest. Other bidders were two Rushville banks, the Peoples National Bank offering $813.80 and the Rushville National bank $775.

As soon as the bond issue is approved, the construction work on the building can get started, and the contractors will push the work to completion by the opening of the fall school term. Jackson township now is without a school, and all pupils are transferred to the Rushville city schools.

Other bidders on the general construction work were as follows: Burdinger and Tumilty, $48,905; Jones Construction Company, $54,000; E. L. Kennedy and Sons, $53,684; Harry E. Pinnick, $57,882; W. T. Nash, $51,639.30; B. O. Hufferd and Son, $53,482.50; L. E. Wickersham $48,981; W. P. Dankin and Son, $49,850.

The bidders on the plumbing and heating were as follows: Herman F. Ziefel, $10,500; Beale Brothers

HARDING STILL FULL OF FIGHT

President Has Surprise in Store For Those Opposing His Merchant
Marine Bill

CONFERENCE ON SATURDAY
Harding Will Discuss Question With Shipping Board—to be Topic on Speaking Tour

(By United Press)

Washington, April 12—President Harding is still full of fight against those persons and interests he regards as hostile to the maintenance of an American merchant marine.

Harding has a surprise in store for them which will show his determination that the American flag shall fly over the ships carrying American cargoes has not abated.

This surprise may become apparent following the conference before the president and the shipping board here Saturday. Or it may be withheld for strategic reasons until later.

In any event the president intends in talking with his countrymen in his forthcoming non-political western tour to impress particularly in inland and farming communities what the importance would be to them of having an American fleet to carry abroad American commerce.

He wanted to get that message to the country during the subsidy fight believing that if the people understood the importance of having their own ships instead of having to let British and other foreign vessels carry our commerce they would support the administration plan.

It is now his purpose to build up public sentiment for a new administration program which will be worked out with the shipping board, the conference beginning Saturday.

For while he has authority to put the new plan into operation without congressional sanction, Mr. Harding intends to throw the question onto the congress again and force it to take the responsibility for settlement.

CLOSE TO POLICE STATION

Vincennes Filling Station Robbed by Unmasked Bandit

Vincennes, Ind., April 12—An unmasked bandit held up the Standard Oil filling station 150 feet from the police station here at 8:30 o'clock last night and escaped with between $70 and $80 in cash.

The man drew a revolver from his pocket as he entered the door and leveled it at Orville Everett, attendant. After obtaining the money, he forced Everett out of the station and made him walk several blocks before permitting him to return.

A man giving the name of David O'Brien, claiming St. Louis as his home, was arrested today for questioning.

WAS A PRISONER IN ANDERSONVILLE

Augustus N. Williams, 85, Who Died
Wednesday Evening, Served Two Enlistments in War

UNDER SEVERAL GENERALS

Was On Scout Duty, And Started With Sherman On His March To The Sea When Captured

Augustus N. Williams, a well known farmer and veteran of the Civil War, expired Wednesday afternoon about four o'clock at the family home, 5 miles west of Rushville, and 2 miles east of Arlington, on the Indianapolis pike, death resulting from a long illness. The deceased was 85 years of age.

He is survived by the widow, and six children. The funeral services will be held at the late home on Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock, in charge of the Rev. R. A. Utrey of the Arlington M. E. church, and burial will be made in East Hill cemetery, Rushville.

The deceased was born in Franklin county, on December 9, 1837, one of nine children born to John P. and Nancy Morris Williams. He received his elementary education in the schools of Brookville, and attended the Brookville college.

During the Civil War he had the honor of enlisting twice in the Union army, first on September 18, 1861, in the Second Indiana Cavalry, which became a part of Buell's army and the deceased took part in the battles of Shiloh, Corinth, Chickamauga, Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge, serving at different times under generals Buell, Grant and Thomas.

In addition to these battles, he took part in a number of minor engagements of the war. Following this service he was attached as a scout to the staff of General Wood, and while on scout duty, he started on Sherman's march to the sea, but was made prisoner at Rome, Georgia May 8, 1863 and was held in Andersonville prison for eight months.

He was exchanged and received his discharge at Indianapolis, March 9, 1865, at the expiration of his term. On the eleventh of the following month he re-enlisted and served until the end of the war, participating in the Grand Review at Washington. At the close of his second enlistment, he was discharged at Louisville, Ky.

MAIL SERVICE IS RESTORED IN CITY

Rushville Postoffice Notified That Allowance for Auxiliary Carrier
Is Granted

SUBSTITUTE ALSO PERMITTED

Complete mail delivery service has been restored in Rushville, it is announced at the postoffice, following receipt of information from the postoffice department at Washington that an allowance to cover an auxiliary city carrier and a substitute has been granted.

The delivery service in this city has been curtailed since the first of this month on account of an order from the postoffice department calling for a reduction of forty to sixty percent in auxiliary carrier's allowance.

Local postal officials were hopeful of getting a fifty percent appropriation for an auxiliary carrier so that he would be enabled to work three hours a day, and the announcement that the auxiliary carrier and substitute could be restored to their regular hours, was a very pleasant surprise.

This means that two letter deliveries will be made each day in the residence district and four in the business district, as before the curtailment, and there will also be four parcel post deliveries, two in the residence district and a like number in the business district.

While the service was curtailed, only one letter delivery was made in the residence district and three to the business houses, and the latter carriers delivered the parcel post.

STEAL WHISKEY FROM TRAIN

"High Jackers" Ignore Eleven Barrels Of Denatured Alcohol

Peoria, Ill., April 12.—Twenty barrels of alcohol and twenty-two crates each containing ten one gallon cans of alcohol, the whole valued at $25,000 comprised the loot from the Santa Fe freight train held up last night at Crandall, the Lake Erie and Western crossing, twelve miles east of Peoria.

The high jackers ignored eleven barrels of denatured alcohol, taking only grain alcohol.

This morning a Ford truck was found in the ditch three miles from Crandall with five barrels of the stolen alcohol and three crates. No other clue has been found of the robbers.

CARTHAGE SCHOOL TO BE REMODELED

State Board of Health Reverses Decision and Decides to Permit Use of Old Building

ADDITION TO BE ERECTED

Will be Connected With Main Building by Corridor—Improvement to Cost About $78,000

The State Board of Health has reversed their decision in the matter of the condemning of the Ripley township school building in Carthage, and new plans are being made by the school officials, in which an annex will be constructed, adjoining the present building with a corridor connection.

The present school building, which is located on the east side of Carthage, was built 25 years ago, and has been condemned by the state board. They refused permission recently to remodel it, and the school officials went forward with plans for a new building, and were about ready to receive bids.

The state board, however, reversed their decision and stated that the present building could be worked over, and made to conform with the law, by removing the top story, altogether, and by equipping the school with modern conveniences.

Removing the top floor, or third story of the building, would cause a shortage in floor space, and a new addition, of two stories, will be built, according to the plans, and be connected with a corridor, located east of the school building.

The proposed addition, and remodeling of the old building will not exceed $78,000, according to the estimates, and this amount was expected to cover the cost of rebuilding the old building that was planned to be torn down, and built as a modern structure on the present site.

The township trustee several weeks ago advertised the fact that the plan for the construction of a new building was contemplated at a cost of $78,000, and the matter was expected to go through, but in some manner the state board of health reconsidered the matter, and will permit the present building to be remodelled.

FLOGGING CAUSES DEATH

Boss Of Lumber Company's Convict
Camp Faces Murder Charge

Madison, Fla., April 12.—Walter Higginbotham, "boss" at the convict camp of the Putnam Lumber Company at Clara, Fla., faced trial today for the murder of Martin Tabert, North Dakota boy who died in camp following a flogging.

The grand jury investigating Florida's convict leasing system in connection with Tabert's death, as demanded by the North Dakota legislature, returned an indictment against the lumber boss last night. He was released on $10,000 bond and his trial set for May 14.

According to witnesses who testified before the grand jury Tabert died several hours after he had been whipped in February, 1922. The state contends the youth died as a result of the flogging, although camp officials maintain death was due to natural causes.

DECLARES HE CAN RUN HIS BUSINESS

Sanford Heaton Seeking To Prove To Satisfaction Of Court That A
Guardian Is Not Needed

HEARING CONTINUES TODAY

Plaintiff's Guardian And Son Contests Action, Insisting He Is Not Capable Of Managing Farm

The case of Sanford Heaton, who demands that his guardianship should be terminated, was still in progress today in the circuit court before a jury, and this afternoon the witnesses on the guardianship side of the case were being heard.

The matter was not expected to be finally disposed of and given over to the jury until Friday. Mr. Heaton, the petitioner and plaintiff in the action, occupied the stand most of the morning, and testified in his own behalf, attempting to show to the jury that he was of sound mind, and capable of managing his own affairs.

His guardian, Macon Wiley, is appearing against the petitioner, as is also a son, Clarence Heaton of Chicago.

The petitioner introduced many witnesses in order to prove to the jury that he was capable of managing his own estate and handling his own money, and the defensive side of the case was introducing witnesses to attempt to prove the contrary.

The witnesses this afternoon were farmers living in the vicinity of the Heaton farm, who were attempting to show that the farm is being managed properly now, and that before the guardianship was founded, that Mr. Heaton permitted the farm to become dilapidated.

Orville Zimmer, who was appointed late Wednesday to be the receiver for the Oren Pharmacy, has qualified and assumed charge of the store and invoicing began today. The suit was brought by Jessup and Antrim, Ice cream manufacturers, who demand $500 judgment, and the appointment of a receiver.

Among the new suits placed on file in the circuit court, Henry Miller is plaintiff in a damage suit against the P. C. C. and St. L. railroad, in which he demands $300 for damage which he said he suffered in the shipment of stock.

The complaint alleges that on May

TICKETS SELLING FOR THE LAST BILL

Many Believe Last Offering Of Little Theatre Society Will Be Best
Of The Season

COLE'S ORCHESTRA TO PLAY

Cast Is Announced For "The Florist Shop", One-Act Comedy To Be
On The Program

Tickets are selling and reservations are fast being taken for the third and last bill of the Little Theatre Society, that will be presented at the Princess theatre next Monday evening at eight o'clock. The bill will consist of three one-act plays.

Homer Cole's orchestra, it was announced today, will provide music for the bill, the members of the organization donating their services.

Rehearsals are being held nightly by the various casts under the direction of the local coaches, and Denning Havens of this city, who successfully produced "The Charm School" for the Wabash high school this week, will be home Saturday to put the "finishing touches" on the work of the Rushville players.

Those who have seen rehearsals and have been in close touch with the progress of the three plays, are convinced that the final bill of the season will by far excel the other two.

None is expected to surpass "The Florist Shop", a comedy by Miss Winifred Hawkrige, a graduate of Harvard, which is being coached by Miss Mary Sleeth, Mrs. Donald L. Smith and Miss Henrietta Coleman. Three men and two women make up the characters.

The theme of the play is woven around the deep interest the young book-keeper in the flower shop takes in the joys and sorrows in the lives of her proprietor's customers. By this heart interest, she is enabled to bring a most happy ending, a love affair of long standing.

GOVERNMENT CAPITULATES

British Cabinet Gives Way To Demand For Modified Program

London, April 12.—The British government in the house of commons today capitulated to demands of the combined opposition that the program for aid to ex-service men be modified.

The session at which the government gave way was quiet, marked by no disturbance such as occurred last night.

It was on a proposal for aid to ex-service men that the government met defeat Tuesday night. Combined voters of Asquithians, Lord Georgians and the labor group rejected the resolution introduced by Stanley Baldwin.

After a cabinet meeting today it was decided to capitulate to the commons opposition and such a movement was announced in the house this afternoon amid cheers from the labor party.

TAX COLLECTIONS SHOW PROSPERITY

Indiana Income Tax Paid This Year
Exceeds 1922 More Than Million and Quarter Dollars

$3,000,000 SAVED IN STATE

Repealed Taxes Have Effect Though
Good Times, With Work Plentiful, Bring Increased Payments

Indianapolis, Ind., April 12—Increased prosperity of the country resulted in an increase of almost one-fourth in the income tax receipts in Indiana this year over last year, although $3,000,000 was saved by taxpayers on account of the repeal of certain excess taxes on profits and small articles of general use.

This showing for Indiana, contained in a statistical report of M. Bert Thurman, collector of internal revenue, made public today, disclosed that since January 1 the collections of 1923 incomes in Indiana amounted to $4,600,247.49 as compared with $4,255,122.36 for the preceding year. Although large, the collections amounted to only half those made on 1919 income when the heaviest tax was paid by Indiana people under the revenue law enacted by the Wilson administration.

While the income tax reflects the prosperity that developed during last year, the continuity of the era of good times for this year is indicated by the revenue report, showing an increase for each month this year of the manufacturers' excise tax—a levy that directly reflects the production of goods and further by the theatre admission tax for each of the three months also showing increases, indicating an abundance of work at wages that permits the people to spend more money for amusement.

Other significant facts indicated by the tax receipts is that more individuals and more corporations paid taxes this year than last, but that fewer paid taxes on incomes under $2500, or under $5,000 a year. Another feature of the revenue office this year was that receipt of returns was more nearly equally distributed over the time between January 1 and March 15. In previous years, a rush of taxpayers marked the last few days. Detailed information of the tax returns is held as confidential by the government, but

THEATRES MOVIES

Thrilling Scenes At Mystic

An old man and his beautiful young daughter were on their way west to homestead land in hope of retrieving their lost fortune.

The father had been ruined by the ravages of the Civil War which destroyed his home and plantation. Stealthily a band of bloodthirsty Sioux Indian warriors of the famous "Sitting Bull," crept up on the unsuspecting travelers.

Art Taylor, son of the plains and crack rider of the Pony Express, sees the attack from a distance and riding through the band of half-naked Indians wards off their blows and saves the old man and the girl.

This is merely the beginning of the Universal chapter play, "In the Days of Buffalo Bill," which is being shown at the Mystic today.

Eighteen fascinating episodes of this period of history have been accurately recorded by the picture camera. Authentic details of history and interesting romance are woven together, which, carried out by an exceptionally well chosen cast, have made a serial masterpiece.

WAS A PRISONER IN ANDERSONVILLE

After the war, Mr. Williams lived for a short time with his brother, Morris J. Williams, an attorney of Ottumwa, Ia.

Upon his return to Indiana, he was married to Julia E. Osborn, and of this union to which seven children were born, four survive who are Edwin J. Williams, Marysville, Wn;

C. W. Williams, Ottumwa, Ia; Ethel Williams Morris, Yazoo City, Miss; Calver B. Williams of Rushville. His wife expired in 1885, and two years later he was married to Minnie C. Caldwell of Rushville, and two children were born to this union. They are Augustus N. Williams, Jr., of Washington, D. C. and Mary M. Williams of this city.

During the entire life of Mr. Williams, he was actively engaged in farming and had lived for 40 years at the homestead two miles east of Arlington. He was a member of the G. A. R. and the Methodist Episcopal church. For more than a half century he was one of the most widely known men of this county.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c 9, 1922, he shipped a car load of hogs, containing 84 head to Cincinnati to the market, and that a reasonable length of time in making the shipment is from 6 to 8 hours, and that on this occasion, the car did not reach the market until 20 hours later.

Because of the delayed shipment, he alleges that 9 head died, and others suffered in the shrinkage, and that he was damaged in the sum of $300.

FORD DEALER BACKS MOVE

Starts Ford-for-President Movement in Indiana

Indianapolis, Ind., April 12—A Ford-for-president movement was underway in Indiana today.

Plans were being made here for organization of a Ford club to get behind the automobile manufacturer for the presidency.

Persons interested in the organization have not seen fit to announce the ticket on which Ford would be expected to make the race. Indications were he would be considered either as a democratic candidate or on an independent ticket.

Frank Hatfield, a Ford dealer, said a petition will be circulated in the state soon asking that Ford be placed on the ballot.

There has been a revival of interest in the very early spring blooming Iceland poppies, new varieties of which come to us from England. Miss Gertrude Jekell, famous as an authority on color in the flower garden, has developed new art shades offered for the first time in the United States this spring. This poppy, although a perennial, blooms the first year from seed. Unlike most of the poppies it is particularly fine cutting, the blooms holding together well where other types invariably shed their petals unless cut before the buds expand.

The new heat and drought resisting spinach of Danish origin is called "Antvorskov," or King of Denmark. It is the last spinach to run seed, outlasting all others while in earliness it compares favorably. It also has a heavy leafage.

Civilized Barbarians

Ask the average citizen if there are any barbarians in this country, and he would at once say "no".But there are such monsters here —in the guise of civilized people.
They are the motor car killers, those "don't care" drivers who tear along at terrific speed in congested districts, maiming and killing pedestrians who do not jump with sufficient celerity.If a man walks up to you and kills you with a gun or a knife, we call him a murderer and hang him.If a speed maniac runs over a person and kills him, we call it by some other name, the most charitable one we can think of. And generally we do not punish him with anything more severe than a nominal fine.The courts, the prosecutors, and even the people themselves are entirely too lenient with such killers.
That is the reason so many people at the wheel of a car seem to lose all regard for the rights of pedestrianswhere those rights interfere with the reckless speed at which they live to drive.The barbarian maims and kills because he has never been taught any better. It is a part of his nature. He has never been civilized.The motor killer is even worse than the barbarian. He is civilized, and he knows better, but he doesn't do better because it interferes with his speed and his pleasure.We haven't much use for a barbarous barbarian.We have even less use for a civilized barbarian—the speed maniac of today.

Textbook Checkup

A committee of the New York state senate is holding hearings on a bill giving the commissioner of education authority to review and pass on American history textbooks used in the schools of the state. Full discretion is not lodged in the Commissioner by the bill, but specifications to which a proper American history should conform are outlined in the measure, and he will examine textbooks to see if they meet those qualifications.The legislature of Wisconsin has recently enacted a bill aimed at the same object; namely to remove from the schools a mass of foreign and domestic political propaganda that is masquerading as American history. In the District of Columbia a committee of the board of education is conducting a similar inquiry, with special reference to a history now in use in the high schools of the National Capital. The movement is an indication of a revival of American-ism after the decadence caused by the internationalist wave of three years ago.

SHOW PROSPERITYContinued from Page One
the tax collections are said to have ranged from 2 cents up."The general trend of incomes all over the state has been upward," said Mr. Thurman. "Higher wages and salaries have been paid in the last year than in the preceding one,
and most of the corporations, due to improved business, that affects almost everybody, show increases.
Work is plentiful; business is booming. Now, everyone knows and should realize that normally merely means prosperity."The exact amount of money that was saved in 1922, due to the congress repealing numerous levies imposed by the Wilson administration, can only be estimated from the figures for months in 1920, and 1921 which indicate the total savings amounted to $2,910,000 for the year.
The largest saving came from the elimination of the taxes on railroad fares and freight shipments and from the removal of the tax on ice cream soda. The tax on insurance also was an important item of the Harding repeal law.Other taxes that were repealed included the levies on express shipments, perfumes and cosmetics, furs, toilet soaps, and women's wearing apparel. All of the repealed taxes in Indiana totaled approximately $250,- 000 a month, two representative months being January, 1920 when the collections of taxes, that have been abolished, amounted to $249,- 720 and July, 1921, $235,446.Two outstanding examples of prosperity—the increased manufacture of goods, requiring more people to work, and the increased theater admission tax, showing the people with more money for amusement were contained in the revenue officer's figures. The manufacturer's excise tax on production, for each month in the first quarter of the last three years follows:

	1923	1922	1921

AGO TODAY

From The Daily Republican
Monday, April 13, 1908It is seldom that a very important event in this community escapes publication in the Daily Republican,
but such was the case Saturday
when an announcement of the birth of a girl into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Jay, in North Main street, was lost in the final rush at the press hour. The sunbeam came Friday evening and now 'tis said that Will will go into the coming campaign fighting hard for a seat in the legislative hall as he feels, more than ever, that "he has something to work for."The third Sunday of the Bible school contest, being conducted at the Main Street Christian church, was largely attended and had a record breaking attendance Sunday
and the interest is becoming intense.
Before nine o'clock the scholars began to arrive and by starting time
the Sunday school had a big attendance.Dr. W. H. Smith placed an order for an automobile while in Chicago last week, which will arrive in about twenty days. The physician purchased a high wheel machine, believing that it is the best for a doctor's use for all kinds of weather.
The machine is not the ordinary electric buggy, but made on the same plan as the low wheel automobile,
the only difference being in the propelling connections.

About one hundred high school athletes of the twelve high schools in Rush county are in vigorous training this week, for the first annual track and field meet for the county schools, which will be held in Rushville on Saturday, and one of the largest crowds from all sections of the county is expected to attend.

The preliminary events, or elimination of weaker entries will be held in the city park Saturday morning, beginning at 9 o'clock, and those who survive the preliminary tests, will then take part in the final drive for points in the afternoon, at the Posey stock farm race track, Seventh and Spencer streets.

The schools which will have athletes entered are as follows: Webb, Center, Manilla, Arlington, Carthage, Raleigh, Gings, Glenwood, New Salem, Milroy, Moscow and Rushville.

Other feature events, which will not be counted for points, will be held at the city park at the morning session, and these events will include horse shoe pitching, hop-step-and-jump, hop-step, tug-of-war, setting the peg, potato race, standing jump, and the contest for girls to see which one can throw a baseball the greatest distance.

Tigers Strong Contenders

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, April 12—Ty Cobb's Detroit Tigers are the team, in the opinion of Miller Huggins, that the New York Yankees must beat out for the American League pennant.

That makes it unanimous. If the Tigers are not the favorites in the 1923 pennant race they are certainly the outstanding contenders for the right to get into the next series.

Cobb is a manager of established ability and he has the material. If misfortune, such as fell upon the Boston Braves last season and flattened them on the ground, does not pick out Detroit for its 1923 victim, the Tigers have a most wonderful chance to win the pennant.

It was a bad break in luck that played no small part in preventing Cobb from piloting his team to a position higher than third place last season. The arm of Sylvester Johnson, a Pacific Coast hurler, who was regarded as a likely candidate for the pitching honors in the American League, went back on him and he was able to win only seven winning games of the late season. As soon as he got going, the Tigers jumped into third place and remained there.

Perhaps it can be argued that the loss of Johnson was not a bad break inasmuch as the thinning of his pitching corps forced Cobb to use Pillelt, a little-considered pitcher, who came up with Johnson. Given the chance, Pillelt turned out to be one of the best pitchers in the league.

If Detroit had both Johnson and Pillelt in top form all season, the Yankees might not have won the pennant, because the New Yorkers were around aching for some one to come along and beat them.

Since the Tigers were good enough to land in third place last season, it stands to reason that they ought to do better this year because they have been materially strengthened, while the Yanks are not a greatly improved ball club, and the Browns are now as strong on paper.

The addition of Del Pratt, former Yank and Red Sox second baseman, will plug up a weak spot that has been bothering Cobb since he took hold of the team. Pratt, is no youngster, but neither is he age-worn. He has a lot of good baseball in him and, with a strong pennant possibility, he should go big.

In the Pratt deal, Cobb also got Rip Collins, former Yankee pitcher. Collins has had his foot lifted to step in among the best pitchers in the league ever since he came up into fast company, but he seems to need a good shove to complete the motion. Cobb is one manager who might be able to prod him along or give him the shove. Another pitcher who might be brought out by Cobb is Francis, former Washington southpaw.

Eight of the players that Cobb will send into every game are 300 hitters or better. His lineup, consisting of himself, Veach, Heilman, Fothergill, Blue, Pratt, Rigney, Jones Haney, Bassler, and Woodall, presents one of the greatest aggregations of mean hitters that a club has ever mustered. Theoretically it ought to produce five or six runs a game, and if the artillery producers on that scale the pitching will not be overtaxed.

Huggins, in discussing the chances of the Tigers, expressed the opinion that Cobb's pitchers were strong enough for home duty, but that the club was not fortified sufficiently for road work. The Tigers haven't anything to compare with the star pitching staff of the Yanks, but with a hustling, hitting sub under the guidance of a shrewd manager, the Tigers do not need six champion hurlers.

The little children enjoyed the hours with games and contests and at the close of the evening the guests were invited into the dining room where refreshments were served. The color scheme in the decorations was blue and pink and a large birthday cake adorned with the seven candles centered the table. Pretty paper hats and flowers were given as favors.

A splendid program was rendered at the Dollar Social given at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday evening by the Band of Workers and the ladies of the church. The program opened with a duet by Robert Gantner, cornetist, and Miss Lois Ethel Steffy, who played the cello. Bernice Kelso sang a comic song entitled "Vacation" which was well received and Mrs. Gibson Wilson gave two interesting readings. The main feature of the program was the turning in of the dollars the ladies of the church were supposed to have made themselves and many of the ladies responded with very clever readings and poetry telling in detail how the dollar was earned. Fifty one ladies responded to this feature. During a social hour doughnuts and coffee were served.

Predicted League of Women Voters Will Endorse Entrance into International Court

HOOVER SOUNDS "KEYNOTE" Resolutions Supporting Project Will be Introduced at Des Moines Convention

(By United Press)

Des Moines, Iowa, April 12—The League of Women Voters will support President Harding's proposal that the United States enter the permanent court of international justice, leaders in the convention here predicted today.

Following the "keynote" speech by Herbert Hoover who outlined what was regarded as the administration's stand last night, Miss Ruth Morgan, head of the war prevention committee, announced today that resolutions drawn by the board of governors supporting the project will be introduced immediately.

Hoover's address was preceded by Florence E. Allen, Ohio supreme court justice, who urged that an international conference be called to outlaw war and criticized the court as lacking in the jurisdiction.

"No court in the world can maintain peace while war is legal," Allen said.

Hoover declared the court should not be condemned because it does not "go the whole gamut" of international co-operation, rapped the "bitter enders" and scored assertions that entrance to the court was tantamount to joining the league.

Hoover declared that he admired those "who have the courage to go the whole distance" for a court with broader powers but said America "is not ready to go this far."

Hoover sounded what is regarded as the "keynote" of the speeches to be made by President Harding on the latter's Alaskan trip.

European ideas for American participation in world affairs will be laid before the women voters by Lord Robert Cecil, foremost British proponent of the league of nations who is here for an address.

Hoover asserted that no "compulsion" in any manner is involved in American participation in the court and that the United States would not have to submit any case to the tribunal unless it so desired.

No other nation, he asserted, can summon the United States into the court.

He answered criticism of the entrance proposal, including that of Senator Borah, Idaho. He charged that Borah would have the United States enter a court empowered to "try war" and with powers to compel this country to adhere to its jurisdiction.
